

Deliverables-Based IT Services (DBITS)

Sistema is a leading IT Solutions and Service company, incorporated in 2002 and headquartered in Austin, TX. Sistema is committed to helping its clients effectively manage projects, integrate new solutions, and address business demands. At the tactical level, we focus on achieving the best solution for our clients at the lowest cost and greatest return on investment.

Sistema has been awarded the Deliverables-Based IT Services (DBITS) contract by the Texas Department of Information Resources (DIR) through its Cooperative Contracts Program. Sistema was selected for the following categories:

- Application Development Projects – Developing new applications, including mainframe, server, network-based, web-based, or a combination.
- Technology Upgrade/Migration Projects – Increasing business functionality; reengineering business functions, making sure to stay current when upgrading existing technology. Configuring legacy applications to new technology may include introducing new technology into the enterprise.

Outside of the categories awarded under the DBITS contract with DIR, Sistema also specializes in providing IT project solutions in Maintenance & Support Projects, Business Intelligence (BI) and Data Warehouse Projects and Service Desk & Infrastructure Services.
